Greatly inspired by Baroque painters (especially Caravaggio), Old Masters of Romanticism and Academism, artist Martin Rebello finds himself. Currently enrolled at the Academy of Realist Art in Toronto, he is studying drawing and painting in the old master tradition to help him achieve his goal of painting realist figurative religious works.

While studying, Martin Rebello continues to paint commissioned work for patrons around the world. His latest commissioned work, 'Peonies' hangs in a private collection in France. 10% of commission profits are donated to The Patrons of the Arts in the Vatican Museums, dedicated to the preservation and perpetuation of the vast and unique collection of art contained in the Vatican Museums.

Martin Rebello hopes to inspire those who see his work. He wishes his work to be a means to the supernatural and in no way an end to the viewers gaze. As Plato said, "The power of the Good has taken refuge in the nature of the Beautiful".
